The day I decided that my life was around me.

Marabeth Quin

A magical forest scene with a stream, glowing lights, and a sunburst through the trees. The scene is filled with large, gnarled trees and a path of glowing lights leading to a stream. The sun is shining through the trees, creating a warm, golden glow. The overall atmosphere is mystical and enchanting.

Do you believe in magick?

I don't mean pulling-a-rabbit-out-of-a-hat magic.

I mean the moment when the sun hits evergreen leaves just the right way and they turn golden,
shimmering like fireflies.

I mean the moment a brook
winds its way across rounded rocks and sings a song that sounds like chiming bells from a faraway land.

I mean the moment the wind and the mist and the clouds dance
together, swirling and twirling
and falling from the mountain cliffs to the valley below.

The moment a dove flies by and a single white feather floats to the ground before your eyes.

The moment you look up and catch, by chance, a solitary butterfly in flight.

The moment you notice a bird's song, as though for the first time.

A sunrise.

A sunset.

A thunderstorm.

These moments...these moments are magickal.

Your life is full of these moments.

Your life is one of these moments.

A magical forest scene with sunlight filtering through trees and glowing particles. The background is a soft, golden light with many small, glowing yellow and orange particles scattered throughout, creating a dreamy, ethereal atmosphere. The trees are dark and silhouetted against the light, with some branches reaching across the frame. The overall tone is warm and enchanting.

And in this little book, you're going to find out where to look for them, and how to invite them into your life.

Because you are magickal, and this is your magickal life!
